Event Overview

The Great American Beer Festival®, widely known as the nation's favorite beer festival, is returning to Denver on October 10-11, 2026. This year brings a fresh take on the beloved tradition, with the event moving outdoors to Denver's Levitt Pavilion for a more intimate, curated experience.

Attendees can join the festival across two sessions, each running from 12:00 PM to 4:00 PM. Compared to previous years, this edition promises a more curated lineup of award-winning breweries, extra room to roam the venue, easier access to brewery booths, and more opportunities to chat directly with the people behind the nation's best beers.

Whether you're a diehard craft beer fanatic or a casual beer lover looking for a fun weekend out, the Great American Beer Festival aims to offer something for every kind of attendee.

Event Highlights

Age restriction — this is a 21-and-over event, in line with standard beer festival policy

Outdoor venue — held at Levitt Pavilion Denver, a scenic open-air setting

Curated brewery lineup — a more intimate selection of award-winning breweries compared to past years

More space — extra room to move around and easier access to brewery booths
